

The City of Calgary Alberta is shown in best light.

Money Sense Magazine ranked Calgary as the overall best place to live in 2013 (against 200 Canadian cities). Further, the New York Times recently listed Calgary at No. 17 on its list of "52 Places to Go in 2014" and U.K.'s The Guardian selected Alberta, with Calgary as the city anchor, as the ninth best place to visit in the world in 2014. Calgary receives more sunshine than any major Canadian city: 2,400 hours a year. Tourism in Calgary annually contributes more than $1.1 billion in economic impact to the local community.
